Discovery Centre offers fun

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

An exciting new project opened its doors on Tuesday night, as the Elk Point Early Childhood Development Committee (ECDC) unveiled their Discovery Centre in the lower floor of the Play2Learn Daycare.

Eager youngsters with parents in tow were excited to find a wide array of toys and games in store, and happily clambered, climbed and crawled over and under and through a kid-sized obstacle course, pounded balls through holes in tugboats and made music on a xylophone, fit shapes into puzzles, played hopscotch and built structures with blocks, all in front of a farm animal backdrop.

The Discovery Centre will have drop-in play times each Tuesday morning from 9 a.m. to noon and each Thursday afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m., with a different theme each day, and the young patrons will even be able to borrow and take home a toy or two from the toy lending library on those days.

Special events are also in the works, with the first one slated for yesterday, with a session entitled 'Discovery Art Through Play.'

Town council welcomes new Deputy Fire Chief

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Jon Kadutski is new to the position of Elk Point's Deputy Fire Chief, but is well experienced as a member of the department, after 18 years as a volunteer firefighter. He told town council, when he visited last week's meeting, that during his first week in the new position, "I was bombarded with emails" regarding the details of his new responsibilities, but said he is "almost caught up now."

Kadutski says there are currently 18 firefighters on the department's roster, "and we try to stay around 20." The firefighters met with Director of Emergency Management Rob Duffy at the previous week's practice and also have a good relationship with their training officer. However, they could still benefit from more training, he told council.

"Because of the downturn, the guys have more time to take training, and when they get the opportunity, they need to do it." Tickets for various aspects of their role are only available if they take courses from a certified instructor, Kadutski noted.

"We respect what you're doing," Mayor Parrish Tung told the Deputy Chief. "We know there's a need for training, and we hope that somehow we can manage the budget part." He added that council is looking forward to working with the fire department's new leadership.

Overdraft bylaw passed

Council passed second and third readings on a bylaw that allows the town to have a $1 million line of credit to be used for operating purposes. The financial institution requires this bylaw to be passed on an annual basis.

Campground policy tweaked

One revision was made to the Elk Point Recreation Park and River Park Campground Usage and Rate Policy established earlier this summer, after the Superintendent of Public Works pointed out that as of Aug. 24, 2016, firewood would no longer be provided at the two campgrounds.

Allied Arts thinking green

Elk Point Regional Allied Arts Society is exploring ways to save on operating expenses, including switching to LED lights both inside and outside their building, and have asked the town for guidance in obtaining grants to cover the estimated $20,000 cost of the changeover. Both Alberta Culture and Tourism's Community Initiatives Program (CIP) grant and Community Facilities Enhancement Program (CFEP) grant must be matched, which means the society would have to pay a share of the cost of the new lighting. Council asked administration to contact the society to help explore the grants and to also advise them if new grants come on stream that would be applicable to their project.

Grandparents Day

Council agreed that the new venue for Grandparents' Day made it easy for Heritage Lodge residents to attend the event, which they might not have done if it were still in the Seniors' Recreation Centre, especially on a rainy day. The town offered their usual $150 donation toward the event, and Mayor Tung thanked Coun. Debra McQuinn for providing the very enjoyable entertainment.

Enforcement costs

The costs associated with an enforcement order dated June 20, 2016 will be applied to the tax roll of the property involved, which was deemed dangerous and unsightly at that time.

Tournament sponsorship

A sponsorship request from a slow-pitch team hosting an upcoming tournament was denied, although council applauded the team's initiative and felt the tournament will be advantageous for the town.

Discovery

Next Monday, Parent Link on Wheels will bring in stories, games, songs and crafts for a 10 a.m. to noon session featuring Pete the Cat. Friday, Sept. 30 will bring a special evening session, with a bedtime story and snacks from 7 to 8 p.m.

Programs at the centre are coordinated by Dayna Sanders and facilitated by Kali Cousins, and focus on five areas of developmental growth: communication skills and general knowledge, language and cognitive development, physical health and wellbeing, social competence and emotional maturity. The programs are free and do not require registration, commitments or fundraising. "Just come and play, learn and grow," says one of the signs posted at the grand opening.

The ECDC is a volunteer group working toward strengthening and promoting early childhood development for children birth to five years of age in the community, and works in partnership with the County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS, Elk Point Municipal Library, St. Paul Parent Link, Elk Point Playgroup, Jack and Jill Playschool, Play2Learn Daycare, Elk Point schools and Alberta Health Services.

Council

Unfortunately, the town's tight budget doesn't allow any extra spending of this nature at this time, but administration was directed to advise the team that council looks forward to partnering with them at future events.

Muscular Dystrophy Month

Council voted unanimously to approve a proclamation declaring

September as Muscular Dystrophy Month in Elk Point.

Hot water

Council agreed to award the tender for replacement of the hot water heater at the Visitor Information EcoCentre to Jonny's Electrical Ltd., the cost of which is covered under the insurance claim.

Centennial Subdivision

An invoice from Telus for installation of telephone lines to 14 residential lots in Stage 2A-1 of the Centennial Subdivision is not in the budget, but council agreed to foot the bill for $11,343.17.

The cost of graveling a laneway in Stage 1 of the subdivision also wasn't in the budget, but a $3,500 quote from Shamrock Valley Enterprises and the availability of sufficient gravel from the County of St. Paul for less than $1,000 have made it possible to approve going ahead with the job and paying for it out of the Public Works operating budget.

Friends of the Library

Council agreed to provide a letter of support to the Friends of Elk Point Municipal Library, who are applying for a CIP grant to replace the furnaces and ductwork in the library.

Franchise fees

Council heard from both ATCO Electric and Alta Gas Utilities regarding franchise fees, and agreed to continue receiving their current 3.6 per cent of ATCO distribution fees. Alta Gas pays the town a 16 per cent franchise fee.

Taxes

CAO Ken Gwozdz told council that there are currently $344,908.50 in current year taxes outstanding, "pretty much the same amount as at this time in 2015." He added that mot of those property owners had paid the amount owing by the end of the year, in addition to the 12 per cent penalty that was assessed on unpaid amounts as of Sept. 1. An additional 18 per cent will be added on Jan. 1, 2017 to amounts left owing at that time.

TD team takes Mocktail challenge

NO ALCOHOL REQUIRED - to make a tasty and refreshing cocktail: that was the message on Friday, Sept. 9 when teams from Servus Credit Union and TD Bank Financial Group went head to head in a Mocktail Challenge sponsored by the Lakeland Centre for Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder. Above left, Deena Smith, Jessica Jurak and Lorrie O'Reilly add the finishing touches to their 'Servus Summer Sizzler.' ## Town residents welcome in Rural Crime Watch

Review Staff

Greater Lakeland Rural Crime Watch (GLRCW) is ready to welcome new members, after receiving confirmation at last week's meeting that towns, villages and hamlets are included in the 'rural' designation. Two town residents from Elk Point were on hand and happy to fill out membership applications, so they can join the members who serve as extra eyes and ears for the RCMP detachments. Members felt that this could help curb crime in the communities where there are insufficient volunteers to organize a Citizens On Patrol Society (COPS).

The GLRCW also has one approved application and others in the process from the Lac Santé area, which has been plagued with incidents of theft and vandalism. Residents and cottage owners there are hoping that the Rural Crime Watch signage will help to deter the illegal behaviour.

The Greater Lakeland float took part in Elk Point's Canada Day parade this year, but didn't travel to other locations. "It's beautiful, but it drags when you pull it down the road," president Orest Sereda said. Members discussed ways to modify the float so the skirting that is part of its décor will be higher off the road surface, thus making it easier to transport, and hope to attend many more parades next summer across the region the Crime Watch covers.

Two new signs reminding motorists that they are in the Rural Crime Watch area will be going up soon along Highway 41, one south of the Highway 29 junction to replace one clipped off by a vehicle and one at the south boundary of the County of St. Paul.

Feedback has been positive about the association's move to high tech communications, which will see many members notified of meetings and emergency situations by email or text messages rather than by phone. Jonny Nielsen of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce reminded residents that they can also be notified about emergencies through the Regional Emergency Management agency, and can sign up on line at www.stpaul.ca

Nielsen also reported that he had attended a meeting in Two Hills of municipal and chamber representatives with MP Shannon Stubbs, and while the downturn in the economy was the original focus, increased crime in the area was also brought to her attention. Stubbs agreed to take these concerns to Ottawa on her constituents' behalf. The GLRCW hopes to have Stubbs as one of the speakers at their 2017 annual meeting in late winter.

Another opportunity to showcase the association was brought to the members' attention. Elk Point and District Lions are holding an Outdoor Leisure Show on Oct. 22, and Rural Crime Watch plans to have an information booth at that event. It was also suggested that Alberta Fish and Wildlife representative Dwayne Fleming, who often gives input at the GLRCW meetings, be invited to give a presentation at the show to clarify the rules on accessing private land for hunting purposes.

The next Rural Crime Watch meeting is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 17 at Elk Point Elementary School, and both county and town residents are welcome to attend and give their input. Memberships and gate signs will be available at the meeting.

CAPC hears parade problems

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Canada Day parade safety was one of the main topics of concern at the Elk Point and Area Community Advisory Policing Committee's first meeting after the summer break.

It was noted that the children's bike parade left the staging area well before the rest of the parade, and ended up competing with vehicle traffic on parts of the parade route that were not blocked off by barricades. Senior Margaret Modin saw several scary incidents from her home along the route and was worried about the children's safety. These concerns will be taken to the Canada Day Committee.

Greater Lakeland Rural Crime Watch took part in the parade with their float pulled by the Break-ins and thefts continue to be a concern for the GLRCW and it appears that professional criminals are targeting some rural areas.

The group applauded the RCMP's crackdown on centre line crossers accessing angle parking and hopes the enforcement continues.

Harvest moon shines on big machinery

Harvest time is here, and that means that large and bulky machinery such as combines, balers and swathers are on the roads at all hours of the day and long into the evening.

While today's new harvest machinery is much better equipped with lights and reflectors than that two or three decades ago, there are still plenty of older models in use, and they aren't always that easy to see after sundown.

Day or night, this machinery doesn't move at highway speeds, and frequently holds up traffic. It's wide and difficult to pass, and extra caution is definitely needed. Even older grain trucks may not get up to speed as easily as their modern counterparts do, and may be turning into any field gateway along the road.

Farmers aren't out there to annoy traffic, they're out there as part of the work required to make a living, and to harvest the grain that puts bread on your plate. Give them a break, slow down and pass with extreme care so that both they and you get to the appropriate destination without incident.

And... driving with caution now is good practice for the coming season when deer rule the highways.

YOUR VIEWS

Stock up - scarecrow season just ahead!

recreation@elkpoint.ca
Review contributor

Before fall even sets in, I'm seeing lots of Halloween and Thanksgiving decorations at local stores - love it! And made me think I should send out a notice that The Rec Department will once again be hosting a Scarecrow Competition! So stock up on supplies. It was so much fun last year and added a lot of character to the community.

Last year, we had business and residential categories- this year I'm wondering if we should have themes? I'd love some feedback. You can contact me by email recreation@elkpoint.ca or 780-207-5898.

Pickleball Update

The Rec Department has received a few responses for our call for people who wish to try Pickleball and we'd like to know if anyone else out there is interested in trying the sport. It's similar to tennis, but on a smaller court, with a shorter and smaller net. This means less ground to cover.

You use a paddle, rather than a racket and a wiffle ball rather than a tennis ball. Pickleball is a lot of fun and great for people of all fitness levels and ages.

There's a very active Pickleball community in St. Paul and many people have participated in the 55+ Plus Alberta Games from our area. Actually, one pair won gold medals at last year's summer events.

Should there be enough interest I will organize for a demo day, followed by a regular night or weekend day of play.

Thanks for those who have responded, I plan to give it to the end of September to allow for as many interested participants as possible to respond.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Gearing up, carrying on, celebrating the railway era

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF SEPT. 20 IN...

1986

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce geared up for another year of operation, following a decision to "look to the future and get on with it," rather than following a suggestion to recess until the new year which had stemmed from disenchantment over low attendance figures, with approximately 16 of the 137 members attending meetings. Rapid growth flowed by a sudden decline caused what Mayor Ed Buck called "a unique situation" in northeast Alberta when he addressed the Heavy Oil and Oil Sands Advisory Committee workshop in Grand Centre.

1991

Seventeen runners, walkers and riders carried on the journey of hope started by Terry Fox in 1981, raising $1327.30 in pledges for cancer research. County of St. Paul ratepayers won their battle to not provide additional funding for 45 children from the county who were attending the Francophone École du Sommet.

1996

Elk Point was well represented at the Lloydminster Heavy Oil Show, with CanSafe Inc., E-Can Oilfield Services Safety Division, Corod Inc. and Tarsands all taking part in the two-day event. Audrey Poiras, daughter of Mabel Dumont of Elk Point and wife of former Elk Point area resident Gordon Poiras, was named the new overall president of the Métis Nation of Alberta.

2001

Last hurrah for the Diamond Drillbit

VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Eight very successful Diamond Drillbit golf tournaments are now part of Elk Point's history, as the women who work in the oil industry themselves or are wives or partners of oil workers bid farewell to the annual event at its last hurrah on Saturday, Sept. 10.

Twelve of the 32 golfers in attendance have participated in all eight tournaments, and Wanda Cochrane, Carol Lee, Brianne Greening, Stacey Fontaine, Norinne Cameron, Dennell Anderson, Cecile Demers, Shaina Lee, Corine Cumby, Sue Desilva and Susan Mackinnon were soon sporting bright pink T-shirts saluting their 'survival' of the series if events.

This year's golfers were divided into three flights, with Chantelle Bonnier winning the First Flight, with Dennell Anderson in second place and Cecile Demers designated as 'Most Honest,' as a fun departure from the usual third place award and going to the golfer with the lowest score in the flight. In the Second Flight, Susan MacKinnon, Shauna Campbell and Bonnie Fairbairn were the winners, while in the Third Flight, Gwen Pierce, Amy Wygle and Corinne Cameron took home the prizes.

The major prizes, however, came at the end of the presentation, with Brenda Robinson winning the coveted Diamond Drillbit necklace, Chantelle Bonnier won the cooler donated by Signature Collision, Marj Nuedorf won a basket of hair products donated by Marnie's Mane Stop and Stacey Fontaine won the trip to Big Horn, donated by Superior Safety.

Although they fell short of their 40-participant target, organizing committee member Wanda Cochrane said "This was a great day, and fun was had by all at the Last Hurrah for the Diamond Drillbit."

Reality check time for Bengals in 30-14 loss

A reality check was in store for the Bengals this past weekend. Doesn't hurt to lose the odd football game, especially to the league leaders. Gives you a chance to check them out before the playoffs, and realize that you may have to work harder to get the results you are looking for. That's what we call challenges.

The Bengals came up against the league leading Lloydminster Mustangs and the Mustangs were very hard to contain, especially towards the end of the game. The Bengals started out well and got on the board first, scoring an unconverted touchdown, making it 6 to 0 for the Bengals at the end of the first quarter. Another drive in the second quarter by the Bengals, and this time they added a two point conversion to make it 14 to zip. Safety 'Ty Cobb' Smereka coming up with a big tackle at the Bengals' 21-yard line to save a touchdown. Then it was the corner

Charlie 'the Angel' Rogal coming up with a huge tackle at the Bengals' eight-yard line to save another touchdown.

But it was all downhill from there on in. Lloydminster finally scored a touchdown but failed on the conversion, 14 to 6 now, the Bengals still leading but the momentum is shifting. The Mustangs drive into the end zone but miss another conversion, 14 to 12 now, the Bengals still leading at this half way point in the game, but not for long. In the third quarter, Lloyd scored another touchdown on a 40-yard running play, but missed another conversion, 18 to 14 now for the Mustangs who now took the lead and never looked back. Another drive, and pass into the end zone, another touchdown, 24 to 14, but once again they miss the conversion; sounds to me they need a new place kicker. Or maybe it's the guys holding the ball, or the snap could be out of whack. Anyway, then another Lloyd touchdown and another missed conversion, 30 to 14 the final score for the Mustangs. Rookie defensive tackle Chayse 'Big Pappi' Pankiw getting some playing time late in the game with a tackle that turns the ball over to the Bengals, but at this point in the game, its too little, too late to mount a comeback. And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week. 'Spectacular achievements are always preceded by unspectacular preparations.' Last week's answer to: "You can't make a great play unless you do it first at practice." - Chuck Noll.

dogs continue to be a concern in the community.

COUNTY OF ST. PAUL No. 19

HIGHLIGHTS

September 13, 2016 Council Meeting

Director of Public Works – The County would like to welcome to Mark Chileen who will be taking over as the Director of Public Works effective October 3, 2016. Our long time Public Works Superintendent Leo deMoissac will be retiring at the end of the year which has precipitated the need to fill this position. Leo will continue working with Mark over the next few months to assist with a smooth transition of leadership in the Public Works Department.

Waterline Extension from Ashmont to Mallaig – On September 1st the Federal Government announced funding under the Clean Water and Wastewater Fund program which includes $4.75 Million towards the estimated $10.2 Million project to extend the regional water system from Ashmont to Mallaig. Alberta Transportation has indicated that they will fund the balance up to 90% of the project under the Water for Life Program. Council passed a resolution to negotiate with Urban Systems regarding a proposal for engineering design for the Mallaig Water Line project. Urban Systems is the engineering company that has completed the work on the water project that began in 2010 with a waterline from Ashmont to Lottie Lake and currently working on the waterline from Spedden to Ashmont.

Planning and Development – The County will consider entering into an encroachment agreement with the owners of Lot 9, Block 4, Plan 1521299 at Vincent Lake to accommodate the concrete foundation on their house and garage and the eaves on their shed which are encroaching on the MR.

Council will consider, at the October Council meeting, amended wording to Land Use Bylaw No. 2013-50 to allow 20.41 acres to be subdivided out of the NE 18-58-10-W4 so the landowner has adequate room to meet the water and sewer requirements on his property.

Northern Valley Road – Council approved additional engineering for 5 miles on the Northern Valley Road to plan the completion of re-grading this important industry road in the County. The additional cost of engineering is $97,196.80. The County is waiting for the announcement of the new rules under the Province's Resource Road Program as we hope to make an application for funding to assist with completing this road.

Capital Purchase – Council approved the purchase of an Automatic Setting Regulation (ASRi) computer for the genset at a cost of $58,250. The computer will help to ensure that the crusher is performing optimally, that the product quality is high and consistent and that the machinery down-time is minimized. The computer will be included in the new equipment that is expected to arrive in mid-October.

Elk Point Fire Department – Following the resignation of long time Fire Chief Ken Palmarek, the Elk Point Fire Department has agreed to leave the fire chief position vacant until the end of 2016. In the interim, John Kadutski was been appointed as Deputy Fire Chief and Jordan Cousins was appointed as Assistant Deputy Chief.

FCSS Seniors Festival - The County of St. Paul and Elk Point FCSS will be hosting their Annual Seniors Festival on November 22 in St. Paul starting at 11:00 a.m. Bussing will be provided from rural areas. For further information, call 780-645-1950.
